ABOUT US

Our goal is to promote sustained relevance for elders through information, guidance and access to a network of ethical professionals.

In order to provide families and individuals with sustainable solutions, we collaborate with a network of reputable local resources to help families:

- Certified Senior Advisors® who can guide families on the safest care and living options based on care needs, location and cultural preferences and your budget.
- Elder Law: Advanced directives, wills, testaments and specialized services regarding Medicaid qualifications are important to many clients to plan their affairs and focus on quality of life.
- Financial and Tax Advisors: helping to plan, protect and stretch wealth.
- Transition Services: This is a critical service group for families in transition providing real estate sales, downsizing and moving services as well as estate sales and auctions.
- In-Home Care: Many clients either would prefer to stay at home longer while having increased supportive needs or require supplemental support in independent and assisted living communities for activities of daily living.
- Hospice and Palliative Care specialists.
- VA and Benefits Services: Helping our veterans through the maze of government support programs and financial support for long term care and medical insurance.
- Tele-Medicine, Technology and Health management services: Based on the unique needs after the COVID-19 situation, we are working on partnerships with remote health management service providers.

Do We Simply Not Care About Old People?

Judith Graham February 9, 2024

The covid-19 pandemic would be a wake-up call for America, advocates for the elderly predicted: incontrovertible proof that the nation wasn't doing enough to care for vulnerable older adults.

The death toll was shocking, as were reports of chaos in nursing homes and seniors suffering from isolation, depression, untreated illness, and neglect.

Around 900,000 older adults have died of covid-19 to date, accounting for 3 of every 4 Americans who have perished in the pandemic.

But decisive actions that advocates had hoped for haven't materialized. Today, most people — and government officials — appear to accept covid as a part of ordinary life. Many seniors at high risk aren't getting antiviral therapies for
